

09:17:00 AM 12/19/08

Vision of the rehearsal feast:

I had a vision while in prayer today. I was lying on a desert floor and I was dying I was in the middle of no where there were two vultures circling me. I was on my face barely breathing it was not looking good for me.. Then an angel appeared and opened up a spring of water before me. I began to drink and get revived from the water. Then I looked up and there was a table set with a feast in the middle of the desert.

Once I got up and walked over to the table the scene changed and I was now in a banquet hall and there was a lot of people there celebrating. We were having fun drinking and eating dancing and just overjoyed, having fun.

Then the door started to open and then an announcement was made that the Bridegroom is here. We all looked and he came in smiling and we all were so happy He was there. Then He stood at the head table and spoke.

He said that we all have been waiting a long time for this moment. He went on to say that this is the rehearsal dinner and there would be more people at the final dinner and that everyone that was here now would have to help those that could not come, for the final dinner. Then He said that many thought that there was a lot more too this but He said it's all about a celebration. That all the cosmos was in great celebration the final habitation of the kingdom of God was coming to the earth (The King was coming). Then we all yelled and jumped up and danced and started to rejoice singing praise. Jesus was smiling laughing and jump up on the table and started dancing with all that were there with crazy joy.

And that was the end of the Vision.